"Whispering to the Wind" is bright, original and uplifting. Arthur puts poetry to music to craft tonal poems. He rewards the listener with songs that amuse and inspire, from passion to lullaby and whimsy to heartbreak. This album of ten original ballads features a stellar band, diverse musical styles and rich vocals and instrumental leads.

- 1) The Great Mystery ponders the wonders of the Universe, exclaiming the joy of how much we really don't know in a new age gospel song. (Alt-Country)
- 2) Who Are We, a couple's duet between love and beloved shuffles across the dance floor carried on heart-strings violin, an ode to the muse. (Pop Jazz)
- 3) Here And Now, an anthem to the ever emerging eternal present, upbeat, hopeful and healing. Strongly emotional and radio ready. (Pop Rock)
- 4) Lonesome Cowboy is a ballad to love lost in a great storyteller song, featuring fiddle and "harp-monica" instrumental leads. (Cowboy Country)
- 5) Rearview Mirror, a fun, simple ditty, that expresses the joy of travel and then returning to home-sweet-home, with fiddle and banjo jams. (Folk Rock)
- 6) Make It Up is a punny song that explores improvisation, invention, imagination and inspiration, four sisters in the construction business. (Rock)
- 7) Out Of Control should be played loud, extols equilibrium, helps when you need to "hang-on", and has a hair-raising lead violin and guitar break. (Grunge)
- 8) Jewels, a wayfarer's muse, presents vivid imagery of traveling to the ocean, to forever, and within ourselves on spiritual voyages and quests. (Folk)
- 9) Little By Little speaks to the nature of things and things of nature, a primer on coexistence, our body Earth, the miracle of being, and patience. Great kids song for all ages with a new millennium sound. (Modern Folk)
- 10) Three Black Sheep, a funny, upbeat, contrarian romp about sheep, fleece, wool, Babylon the wolf, and where we herd ourselves. (Dancehall Reggae)
